MELBOURNE, March 31.—Combined with a declaration that United Nations forces had established air superiority over territories north of Australia, commonwealth officials today expressed warm satisfaction with the decision to establish a Pacific war council in Washington.

As government leaders met in secret conferences to formulate active steps in the war against Japan they voiced supreme confidence in the ultimate outcome of the conflict through assistance of the United States.

Speaking at a reception for Lieut. Gen. Thomas Blamey, Australian commander of United Nations land forces, Prime Minister John Curtin pledged that neither the Australian government nor the parliament would interfere with the military direction of the war.

He said he was confident Australian civilians could withstand the shock of warfare.

Gain In Superiority
Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford meanwhile announced that United Nations fliers had gained air superiority over New Guinea and New Britain.

Crack Shooting By Bataan Defenders Holds Up Japanese

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Forming the backbone of Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's army, crack-shooting American and Filipino artillery and anti-aircraft gunners today are taking such a terrific toll of the Japanese that the invaders' latest offensive has been thrown off stride.

Synchronized with the infantry's unyielding defense and bold counter-thrusts, the excellent marksmanship of Wainwright's big gun wielders again was brought to a virtual standstill the enemy's land and aerial offensive in the Philippines.

Except for the heavy, but ineffective day and night bombing raids on Corregidor, however, military experts believe that recent Japanese activity has been little more than a "feeler" to determine possible weak spots in defending lines, and that large scale onslaughts still are in the offing.

HEADQUARTERS OF AMERICAN Forces in Australia, March 31.—Colonel Eugene Eubank, who commanded the American bomber command in the Far East, today revealed unparalleled successes of his planes and men which accounted for the destruction of at least 50 Japanese fighter planes, and the sinking or damaging of 46 Japanese transports and 16 warships.

Announcement of the destructive attacks by American planes was made by Col. Eubank in a resume of activities of his bomber command covering a period from December 8 when they went into action in the Philippines until outbreak of the war until March 1 when they left Java.

All the Japanese ships either were seriously damaged or sunk, Col. Eubank said.

LONDON, March 31.—Three German U-Boats were damaged and possibly sunk and one enemy destroyer sunk in an unsuccessful Axis attack on a British convoy en route to Russia, the admiralty announced tonight.

The 8,000-ton British cruiser Trinidad and the flotilla leader Eclipse suffered some damage in the engagement but were able to return to harbor safely with few casualties, the admiralty said.

Editor's Note: In its version of the destroyers attack, the German high command asserted that German destroyers had sunk a 10,000-ton merchantman loaded with tanks and munitions from New York and scored a torpedo hit on a 10,000-ton cruiser of the "cities" class.

NURSING CLASS

All Registered Nurses of the Lawrence county district have been issued a special invitation to attend the graduation exercises of the American Red Cross classes in Home Nursing Wednesday evening in the George Washington Junior High school, when a program of particular interest to all women interested in this phase of National Defense will be presented. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

At the present time, there is a great shortage of nurses in this country, due to the heavy demands for war service, which situation is becoming more acute every day.

Catherine Cameron, nursing consultant of the American National Red Cross, will be present to explain how the women of the country can aid in this vital factor of home defense. Mrs. Travis French, Key American Red Cross Nurse of Lawrence county, stated today.

Registered nurses can enroll for two types of service, the first line enrollment calling them to active duty with the armed forces. The second line of duty enrolls them to teach home nursing and other duties.

Plans Progressing For Celebration Of Army Day, April 6

Army Day, April 6, has a dual importance this year. Not only does it mark the 25th anniversary of the United States in the World War, but it is an opportunity for the United States to demonstrate its unity in the present war effort.

President Franklin Roosevelt has asked that cities all over the United States mark the day with a military celebration, and every city with any civic initiative has responded with its plans. New Castle is among that classification and plans are being pushed here for a celebration that will rank with those of larger communities.

It's For Everybody
Ivor V. Davis has been named the chairman of the celebration here and said today that the affair is for everybody. Every citizen, every organization should be represented in the celebration, either in the parade which will be held in the afternoon or at the mass meeting which will be held in the evening.

Major Arthur B. Foster has been named grand marshal of the parade (Continued On Page Two)

The doctors are: R. Politzer, of the National Health Administration; Robert Lim, Edinburgh-educated director of the Chinese Red Cross, and Chen Wenk Wei, Chinese plague specialist.

Editor's Note: It has been charged previously that the Japanese were dropping "bombs," composed of cotton infected with plague-bearing lice. This, however, is the first time the charge has been conclusively substantiated.

DOMINION STATUS

NEW DELHI, India, March 31.—Sir Stafford Cripps, special envoy of the British war cabinet, said today that he hoped to obtain a decision today or tomorrow from Indian leaders on the British proposal to grant the nation dominion status.

"I hope to get a decisive indication of reactions of the main communities either today or tomorrow," Sir Stafford said.

"I anticipate that I will be able to tell you Thursday in broad outline what I propose to do."

Sir Stafford said that no separate union of states by themselves is contemplated.

The British proposal calls for establishment after the war of an Indian union, but provides that any province could elect to stay out of the union or join a separate one.

Asked if the status of the Indian representative in Washington would become the same as that of other representatives of British dominions in the American capital, Sir Stafford replied that he could not bind Washington but would personally suggest the Indian diplomat be given the same status.

Petain Refuses To Reinstate Laval

Such Is Advice To Washington

Germany Seeking To Force French Government To Reinstate Former Vice Premier

U. S. AND VICHY RELATIONS AFFECTED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 31—Diplomatic advice available in Washington today indicate that Marshal Henri Petain of France has refused again to reinstate former Vice Premier Pierre Laval in the French government.

Receipt of word to this effect has greatly relieved the concern that was felt in official Washington quarters over the meeting last Thursday between Petain and the leader of the pro-German collaborationist group at Rindan, 12 miles outside Vichy.

Germany is known to have been pressing for Laval's return to the Vichy government. It was feared that the meeting with Petain might be the prelude to Laval's return. However, the diplomatic advice indicate that Petain remains firm, for the present at least, in his determination not to have Laval back in the government.

Laval was deposed as Vice-Premier and his apparent return to the Vichy government, it was feared, would mean a temporary shadow over the recently improved relations between the American government and Vichy.

Following the receipt of renewed assurances from the French government that it would not render any military aid to the Axis, the state department had intended to approve the resumption of trade with French North Africa and consider permitting another American Red Cross food shipment to unoccupied France.

Action Delayed
When word of the Petain-Laval meeting was received, it was decided to hold everything in abeyance pending a clarification of that development.

Laval's return to the French government would be regarded by the state department as a grave threat to the continuance of diplomatic relations with France. It would, in the opinion of this government, herald the complete collaboration between Vichy and Germany.

In view of the indication that Laval is not returning to the government, the state department is now disposed to consider the resumption of trade with French North Africa. This question, as well as that of permitting another Red Cross shipment to unoccupied France, will be discussed at a conference this afternoon between acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles and the French Ambassador Gaston Henri-Haye.

The French envoy is also expected to raise the question of purchasing food in this country for French war prisoners still held in German camps.

run into the same snag that upset previous attempts to "annihilate the outnumbered but crafty defending army."

Although the war department reported 10 days ago that Japan's long delayed Bataan offensive appeared to be "in the making," the enemy has failed to gain ground and has paid a high price for what Tokyo has described as "mopping up operations" in the Philippines.

Frankly worried by recent reports that the Japs were pouring in reinforcements and that enemy units were being regrouped for a renewal of offensive operations, military experts have been pleasantly surprised by the relatively poor showing made by the Nipponese during the past week.

Recent communiques indicate, however, that the results are due to Wainwright's brilliant strategy rather than to any weakness or lack of planning on the part of the invaders.

Wainwright Carries On
This means that Wainwright in his own way is carrying out successfully the unorthodox Yankee tactics that Gen. Douglas MacArthur used in stopping the Japs before he was transferred to Australia as the United Nations supreme commander.

And Wainwright's stock as a military expert in his own right has been boosted by the fact that since he took over command in the Philippines his opposition has been none other than Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, conqueror of Singapore, and one of Japan's ablest tacticians.

The contest of wits actually began when the Nipponese commander issued a surrender ultimatum March 22 and was rebuffed with defiant silence by MacArthur's successor.

The Japanese aerial attack on Corregidor and land thrusts on Bataan followed immediately.

Under Wainwright, however, the American-Philippine forces have proved as unyielding and unpredictable as they did under MacArthur.

The reason the beach at Daytona Beach, Fla., is hard enough for driving is that the sand grains there have sharp corners, so that the sand forms a hard surface.

New Castle and Lawrence county residents who changed to be in Washington or Baltimore or down east over the week-end bring back reports of having encountered a record snowfall in that area. It seems to be the general opinion that from two feet to 30 inches of snow fell. Traffic was badly tied up.

out with "extremely low American losses."

Col. Eubank, who hails from Port Arthur, Tex., and Albuquerque, N.M., had under his command during this period of terrific fighting a long list of heroes who have been decorated or recommended for decoration.

The American fliers gave the Japs an unbelievable battering all the way down their long invasion route through the southwest Pacific with American flying fortresses. Upon rare occasions United States attack planes were used.

Col. Eubank said the flying fortresses operated without fighter support, sometimes in the most terrible weather imaginable, from rough advance bases. They carried out their missions with great efficiency, inflicting heavy destruction upon the Japanese.

He said he lost only two planes through pilot error.

"Our total losses in action were very few, and I'd like to emphasize very few," Col. Eubank said.

Jap Losses Certain
The Japanese losses mentioned, he pointed out, are only those on which he is certain.

Planes seen either falling or in flames or ships seen turning over and sinking or afire, or hit with bombs, which exploded, were the only ones included in the total. These figures do not include Jap planes destroyed on the ground in airfield attacks, of which there were a considerable number.

Col. Eubank told thrilling stories of the 60 decorated men in his command. Several received citations immediately after the opening of the war in the Philippines where they were stationed.

"We were not surprised at the attack and had been on war alert for some time," Col. Eubank said of the Japanese assault which started the conflict.

"When we heard of the Hawaii attack we started out and carried out a number of tactical missions that day, which was the day Clark Field was bombed by the Japs."

Heroic Performances
"A number of men performed exceedingly well in saving planes from bomb fires."

Among the latter were included Major David R. Gibbs of Albuquerque, and Surgeon Major Luther C. Heider of Richmond, Conn. Captain Ray I. Cox, Riverside, Cal.; Captain Fred T. Crimmins, Fort Worth, Tex.; Master Sergeant Anthony J. Holub, Coronado, Cal.; and First Lieutenant Joseph F. Laffeur, a chaplain of Opelousas, La.

All of these were listed for Distinguished Service Crosses for extraordinary heroism and gallantry in action above and beyond the call of duty.

Others among his Distinguished Service Cross recipients include the late Major Stanley K. Robinson, of Morgantown, W. Va.; the late Captain Colin P. Because of the time element perhaps some few citizens or organizations will not receive a formal invitation to participate. General Chairman Davis and his committee chairmen are hopeful this will not deter anybody for the celebration is for every person who calls himself an American.

5,000 Miles Of Trout Waters Call Anglers For Opening April 15

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—More than 5,000 miles of Pennsylvania mountain and meadow streams are beckoning anglers who are anxious to cast their lines on the red letter day of the year—April 15. This marks the first day of trout season in the Keystone state.

According to the state department of commerce, inquiries received indicate that thousands of defense workers, both men and women, will get their 1942 relaxation from work in the outdoors, whipping rushing mountain waters and quieter lowland streams. A large group of fishermen in waters of the Keystone state will be made up of old-timers who have learned the truth of the adage that a man does his best thinking with a fishing rod in his hand.

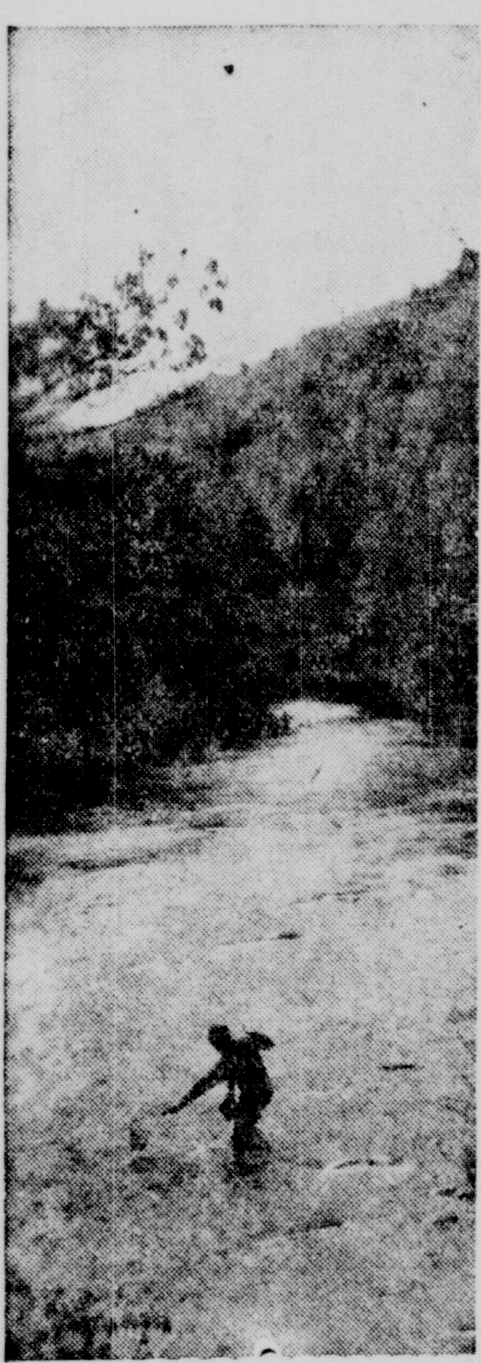

With nearly 46 per cent of Pennsylvania's 45,000 square miles still covered with thick forest land, plenty of water is provided for streams and the state still ranks on top as an anglers' paradise, particularly for those who enjoy hooking the wily trout.

That trout are plentiful in the waterways of Penn's Wood is evident in the state fish commission report that 1,634,937 brook, brown and rainbow trout, six to 19 inches in length, were planted for this year's season. This, plus natural propagation, promises trout fishermen a good catch.

For the information and convenience of anglers, the Pennsylvania department of commerce has compiled a booklet containing facts about fishing, licenses, over-night or weekly accommodations, and locations of trout waters. Another pamphlet listing the major trout and bass waters in the state is available.

Those coming into Pennsylvania from other states may obtain a non-resident license for the entire fishing period or a three-day tourist fishing license. July 31 brings the trout season to a close.

BLACKBEARD'S TOWER

Blackbeard's Tower is one of the old landmarks in Nassau that dates back to the days when pirates made their headquarters in the Bahamas. From this stone edifice, now partially fallen away, the villainous William Teach, better known as Blackbeard the Pirate, used to keep watch to see what ships approached the island.

AIR SUPERIORITY OVER NEW GUINEA IS LOST BY JAPS

Britain, whence the Japanese were expected to launch a drive against the continent.

In recent attacks by American and Australian fighters, Drakeford revealed, seven enemy transports were sunk, burned or beached at the Japanese-held Port of Lae, north-east New Guinea, while three destroyers were damaged. These successes brought to 23 the total of Japanese losses through assaults on Lae.

Prime Minister John Curtin, advised of President Roosevelt's announcement that a Pacific war council will be set up in Washington, said it was a deep source of satisfaction to him that Australia now will have a direct voice in the higher direction of the war.

Included in the council besides Australia and the United States are Great Britain, New Zealand, China, Canada and the Netherlands government in exile.

Fight Shoulder To Shoulder
"What now remains is the all-important factor of work and fight by the Australians shoulder to shoulder with the considerable number of American forces here," Curtin said.

"With the resolute courage of our people, the unceasing industry of our workers and the matchless gallantry of our fighting men, we face the Japanese. That the way may be long and arduous is inescapable, but that we shall win I am supremely confident."

Curtin said the decision to establish the war council in Washington brought to an end long efforts by Australia which held the firm belief that only through such an organization could there be a maximum of unity and effort among the United Nations.

He pointed out that the move will enable the nations fighting the Axis to marshal all their resources under unified direction for offensive action and ultimate victory.

Tracing the efforts of the Australian government, Curtin said the final goal was reached in three stages.

The first, he said, was when Australia gained representation in the United Nations war cabinet. Then came the creation of a Pacific war council in London. Finally, through continued pressure to establish high direction of the Pacific war, the council was set up in Washington.

SWEET POTATO FLOUR
Several young chemists in Mississippi looked sadly at field after field of surplus sweet potatoes left rotting in the ground. Then they put their heads together and produced an inexpensive sweet-potato flour that makes light, fluffy golden-brown leaves and cakes. After testing the leaves the chemists announced that the new flour was a high-carbohydrate food, rich in vitamins.

CHILD INJURED

Pennsylvania's Home Front

(By International News Service)

The "Little Men" in Pennsylvania's industry have found a way to help Uncle Sam win the war—and save their own investments. A total of 191 small manufacturers and machine shops in five communities of the commonwealth have pooled their facilities. In one month the enterprising firms booked war orders amounting to $800,000.

U. S. District court has empowered the federal housing administration to use 53 acres of land near the veterans' hospital in Coatesville for a defense housing project.

Five Pennsylvania steel plants are among ten in the nation which have been forced to bank their furnaces for lack of iron and steel scrap. The firms are located in eastern Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh area and in Butler.

It was learned here that in one sector of the Kalinin front a Red cavalry unit repulsed fierce enemy attacks, and counter-attacking captured one important locality. Three hundred and fifty enemy troops were killed in the action, it was added.

A Stockholm report said heavy fighting was going on before Kharkov but said there was no confirmation from Moscow regarding a Vichy broadcast that the Russians had completely encircled the south front city.

2,500 Germans Wiped Out
Meanwhile, a Soviet communiqué issued at midnight, reported that in only two days of relentless combat on the Leningrad front 2,500 Germans were "wiped out." Pilots of the Soviet Baltic fleet, supporting ground forces, "annihilated hundreds of Germans" in the past 24 hours with violent bombing and strafing, it was announced.

Attack Nazi Tanks
Sweeping low over the desperate Nazi lines around Leningrad, the naval fliers demolished "a large number" of German tanks, trucks and other vehicles, as well as 16 mine-throwers, it was reported.

In the Crimea area, pilots of the Soviet Black Sea fleet's air arm went into action, battering the German lines north of the Sevastopol naval stronghold, and shooting down seven Nazi planes in a single contest, the same announcement declared.

Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's forces in the eastern Ukraine were said to be closing in further around the flanks of Kharkov and intensifying their pressure on the enemy-held center of the Donets river basin.

Summing up the air warfare, it was announced here that the Germans lost 161 planes and the Russians only 71 in the week ending last Saturday.

Strong enemy counter-blows were admitted at several points, particularly by the trapped Nazi 16th army in the Staraya Russa zone below Lake Ilmen. The huge Soviet "bolse" driven west of Kalinin toward the Latvian frontier, however, was reported secure following defeat of a large-scale German counter-drive reported Sunday.

"Our operations in this area," the statement said, "are considerably hindered by lack of air reconnaissance and by the fact the local population as a whole appears actively to support the enemy."

As imperial British forces battled the Japanese in the vicinity of Paungmye, 30 miles below Prome, it was reported that reinforcements were being speeded to the beleaguered Chinese garrison at Tounghoo.

A message from United Nations headquarters at Maymo to the Chinese at Tounghoo said:

Every Hour Aids
"Every extra hour the Tounghoo garrison holds out is an hour in favor of the allies. The Japanese are due for an unpleasant surprise in the near future."

The Chinese force at Tounghoo consisting of 8,000 troops have repulsed repeated Japanese attempts to dislodge them although they are heavily outnumbered.

One report said the Japanese had resorted to use of poison gas in an effort to break the resistance at Tounghoo.

Imperial British forces under command of Gen. H. R. L. G. Alexander, employing tanks, charged down the sun-scorched banks of the Irrawaddy river to stem the Japanese northward push.

The clash on the western front began Sunday near Paungmye when the British opened their counter-offensive after scouting patrols discovered the Japanese preparations to move toward the oil fields.

Japanese airmen were reported to be attempting to blast British and Chinese communications lines through Burma but their attacks were termed "ineffectual."

It was disclosed that the Japanese have two divisions in action in Burma, the 33rd and 55th of the 15th army corps, with large forces being held in reserve in the rear. Reinforcements were reported continuing to arrive aboard transports unloading Japanese troops along the coast.

Total use for strictly war purposes of all American labor, including that of women and older children, is necessary to win the war. That's what Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Day and night raids on Corregidor and three other Manila Bay forts are continuing but Gen. Wainwright's gunners so far have prevented Japanese bombers and shore batteries from inflicting serious damage on military installations.

Day's Communique
The text of the war department's 16th communique as of 9:30 a. m. EWT follow:

"Philippine Theater—Except for sharp clashes between patrols, there was no ground fighting in Bataan during the past 24 hours. The enemy continued aerial bombardment of our front lines and rear areas."

"At noon on March 30, a base hospital in Bataan was bombed by the Japanese, causing a number of casualties. This hospital was plainly marked and had been carefully avoided by the enemy bombers until yesterday."

"Both day and night air raids on our defenses continued intermittently. Thus far little damage has been inflicted. The day raids yesterday were accompanied by fire from enemy shore batteries in Cavite Province. The guns of our forts returned the fire. A battery firing from Fort Hughes destroyed an enemy launch in Manila Bay."

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

U. S. Navy Flier Tells How He Got Six Jap Bombers

Editor's note: Lieut. Edward H. O'Hare, 28, of St. Louis, Mo., a U. S. Navy flier, tells in the following article written for International News Service how he single-handedly downed six Japanese bombers which sought to attack an American aircraft carrier.

By LIEUT. EDWARD H. O'HARE
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., March 31.—The Japanese bombers which sought to attack our aircraft carrier last February 20 came in two waves of nine planes each.

I crashed head-on with the second wave before other planes were able to come to my assistance, bringing down six flaming Japanese bombers in the space of about four or five minutes.

O'Hare's feat was described by others protecting the carrier as the most dramatic individual exploit of the battle during which at least 17 enemy planes were brought down. Two other Japanese craft were accounted for by protecting patrols some distance from the carrier.

Spots Planes

The nine Jap planes were 12 miles from the carrier when I spotted them roaring in at 200 miles an hour. They were astern of the carrier, which was their objective. I knew if they reached the carrier they would drop their bombs in four or five minutes.

I sped out and met them. As I closed in there wasn't much to do but shoot. I was about 100 yards away when I made my first pass at them, blazing away with my guns.

Two of the Japs on the right side of the enemy formation dropped in flames.

I maneuvered and began working on the left side of the line. They were coming on in threes. As I knocked out one, and he dropped, I moved in and knocked out the next. As each plane went down another moved into formation. After dropping the first two I took the others one at a time.

I moved in on them five times until I got six planes. Always I shot for their engine. When I saw the engine drop out of their planes I knew I had another.

I was on the left side of the formation most of the time. Shooting at the engine I came in at the same level. When an engine began to burn I forgot about that particular plane and went for the next one.

You don't have to watch them crash in the ocean. The action was so fast that at one time three of their planes were falling at the same time.

I guess the whole thing took four or five minutes.

They were over the carrier when I got my sixth and last plane. By that time I got support from other planes of our squadron which had been chasing a Jap who fled after the first attack.

I would shoot one and he'd start to drop. I would let him get out of the way and then go after the next one.

We develop a sense of timing in this just like swinging at a golf ball. You have to have three things: You have to be in there, you have to hold your nerve and, of course, you have to have skill.

Once my gun stopped on me, it spluttered about 10 times and quit on me. I was on the spot but fortunately it quickly got working again.

Food Specialist Is Heard Monday

Miss Lydia Tarrant, Of Penn State College, Addresses Rotary Club

Miss Lydia Tarrant, food specialist of Penn State College, addressed members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon, Monday noon, in The Castleton.

For a time, it was feared Miss Tarrant would not be able to make her appearance, due to a 30-inch fall of snow which blanketed the middle and eastern sections of the state, but conditions improved some, and she was able to get through.

Miss Tarrant spoke on the need for a balanced diet and the foods which one should eat to maintain good health and strength. She used a chart to demonstrate the foods which were high in vitamin content.

The club voted to join with the other service clubs on Wednesday, April 22, for a joint luncheon meeting when they will be addressed by National Commander, Lynn U. Stambaugh, of the American Legion, who will be here for the annual National Commander's banquet sponsored by the posts of the 26th District, with Perry S. Gaston Post of this city as host post.

HARRISBURG, March 31.—The third and final session of the Democratic state committee held at Harrisburg on March 25 was all sweetness and light. Democratic State Chairman Meredith Meyers, who opposes the committee-endorsed slate, set the keynote, when he told the assembled delegates that he expected them to go out and fight for their candidates. Judge Michael A. Musmanno, of Pittsburgh, who received the committee's endorsement for state superior court, said "this campaign should be educational and clean." House Majority Leader Leo A. Achtermann, of Stroudsburg, who was endorsed for secretary of internal affairs, attacked the James administration, a contrast to the

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 31.—With legislative leaders already tentatively setting the date for adjournment of the legislature for the week of March 30, there appears little chance that Governor James will be able to resurrect his war powers bill and obtain its passage. As the special session neared its close there were talks of some sort of a compromise, but the indications were that the Democratic and Republican leaders of the two houses were veering toward the belief that the legislature could adjourn sine die.

House Majority Leader Leo A. Achtermann expressed the belief that the war did not require the legislature to remain in continuous session or to delegate to another body the authority to suspend and modify laws which interfered with the war effort. The governor had requested that the state defense council be given this power, but his bill was pigeonholed in a Republican-controlled senate committee. Although the issue has not yet been settled, appearances are that the legislature will complete the work it has on hand and then vote for final adjournment. If anything else should come up later that would require their presence, the governor would then have to call another special session.

Sen. Edward J. Coleman, Lackawanna Democrat, has been asked by a high party leader to run for Secretary of Internal Affairs. Coleman, member of the senate since 1937, after serving two years in the house of representatives, is faced with a two-point problem by the offer. First, he is assured of re-election to the senate because county Republican opposition has cooled, and second, he is reluctant to be a harmony candidate with only an even chance to win.

Major Gen. Edward Martin, former 28th Division commander involuntarily relieved from command due to age, will continue in the Republican primary fight to oppose U. S. Sen. James J. Davis. Martin's decision followed a conference in Philadelphia. Incidentally, Martin's decision to remain in the race assures one of the bitterest campaigns since 1934 when the G. O. P. had 16 candidates in the field headed by William A. Schnader, attorney general. Democrats indicate they will assail Martin for leaving the army when the nation is at war. They intend to point out that Gen. Douglas MacArthur, hero of Bataan, is over the 62-year maximum age limit and has become the nation's top military strategist.

When the Bureau of Vital Statistics is reorganized and expanded to overcome a backlog of 50,000 untouched birth certificates the credit will largely belong to one man, John H. Dornig, on leave as comptroller of the highway department. Dornig was given carte blanche to streamline the section and his only boss is Gov. Arthur H. James.

We've got to win this war!

Natural Gas is speeding War Production

All industry is in dead earnest about winning this war. That goes for the Gas Companies serving industry of this district in this war emergency.

As the war effort spreads, taking in more and more industrial plants, Natural Gas stands at their shoulders to help them produce war goods, speedily and to meet precise specifications. For fast and controllable heating are two inherent qualities which Gas has always had to offer industry. Today they are critical qualities.

Few of the implements of war are fabricated without heat playing a part. In this district alone this has resulted in a greatly increased demand for Natural Gas. The industrial load has risen 68% since 1940—126% in three years.

As Gas companies we have gone to extreme lengths to put ourselves in position to keep pace with industries which are receiving war orders double and treble anything they ever dreamed of before. We must hold ourselves in readiness to meet increasing demands for Gas from war industries.

We know—all of us know—that we've got to win this war if we are to preserve our way of life. And we're going to do it, too!

So we say to our customers who use Natural Gas for cooking, house heating, water heating or refrigeration: Natural Gas is today a vital war material. The Gas you save on a cold day can be used to build part of a plane, tank, ship or gun.

Natural Gas is Vital to War Industries

Use it wisely!

Here's how you can help on very cold days!

1. Reduce to a minimum the use of your kitchen range for heating on cold days.
2. Reduce the use of Gas to supplement other fuels for heating on cold days.
3. Avoid excessive room temperatures by proper setting of thermostat.
4. Close off heat in rooms you do not use, close bedroom doors at night if windows are open, see that fireplace dampers are closed.
5. Stop heat leaks by weather-stripping windows and doors, install insulation to save fuel.
6. Learn to cook with low-flame in small amounts of water, saving vitamins and Gas.

Malarial Mosquito May Rise To Plague Japanese In Malaya This Spring

By PETER COLLINS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, March 31.—One spring offensive the Japanese may have to face in Malaya is the advance of the malarial mosquito, according to Sir Malcolm Watson, director of the Ross Institute of Tropical Medicine in London.

It was Sir Malcolm's work that transformed the swampy, fever-stricken Malayan peninsula into one of the healthiest of tropical territories. At 63 he knows the country from the Siamese border to Singapore; he first went out there as a medical officer at the beginning of the century, when the death rate from malaria was 130 per thousand. Thirty per cent of the labor forces on the plantations were dying. The scourge was so great that Sir Frank Swettenham ordered Port Swettenham to be closed, two and a half months after it had been opened. The jungle still swallowed unattended rubber trees in derelict plantations.

Malaria Control Set Up
An elaborate system of malaria control was built up. Each town, village, rubber plantation and tin mine had its own control, and it was through the collaboration of the people, both Asiatic and European, that the progress became a success.

Much of the control broke down with the Japanese invasion. It consisted mainly of killing the malaria-carrying mosquito in their breeding places. Embankment and tide gates were built around mangrove swamps, oil was poured down drains and streams and drains had to be kept free from weeds. This control reduced the death rate from malaria to six per thousand.

HARRISBURG, March 31.—Turkey growing in Pennsylvania has made vast strides over the last decade, the Department of Agriculture announced, pointing out that the number of the birds increased 31 per cent, in the last year alone.

The number of turkeys raised in the state increased from 192,000 in 1929 to 227,821,600, he added. With greater production required under the "food for freedom" program, the bureau of plant industry urged all farmers to plant seed of good quality and to take precautions toward having successful crops.

It is particularly important now to guard against poor seeds, the bureau pointed out, suggesting that only products be purchased which are sold in compliance with the Pennsylvania seed law. Not only is the quality of the seeds important, but also their adaptability to the particular area where they are planted.

With the opening of the chick hatching season, the bureau of animal industry warned all farmers to guard against loss due to disease. Pointing out that the most destructive disease to chicks is pullorum, the bureau suggested that only blood tested birds, or those from blood test stock be purchased.

Of the other diseases which destroy hundreds of chicks annually, the bureau warned of infectious bronchitis. This bronchitis, an apparently new respiratory disease in chicks, does not have a high mortality rate but it has a large effect on egg laying capacities.

To control the various diseases and reduce the loss of young birds, the bureau suggested the removal of all visibly affected chicks and thorough cleaning and disinfecting of the houses.

The annual list of owners of Pennsylvania poultry flocks and hatcheries who operate under the poultry standardization plan of the bureau of markets was issued recently by the bureau.

All birds, to qualify for breeding under the plan, must be individually inspected at least once each year. Selections are made according to standards of health, egg and meat production and freedom from defects. Blood tests for pullorum disease must also be performed on every bird kept on the premises.

With honey promising to be an important commodity during the coming summer because of the sugar rationing, the bureau of plant industry pointed out that bees are already in their hives preparing for the season's crop.

HARRISBURG, March 31.—Sharp fights over nominations by both major parties were in the making today upon expiration of the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the May 19 primaries. Each party had five candidates for the gubernatorial nomination.

For Supreme Court

Republican candidates for the supreme court include William B. McClenachen, Jr., Delaware county; Judge W. Walter Braham, Lawrence county; Judge Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., Philadelphia; Judge J. Ambler Williams, Norristown, and Judge Allen M. Stearne, Philadelphia.

Only two Democrats filed for the supreme court, Judge Grover C. Lader, Philadelphia, and Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Pittsburgh, the latter with support of U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey.

Judge Musmanno was the lone candidate for the Democratic nomination for the superior court, while contenders for the Republican nomination included Judge Joseph Stadfield (for re-election), John McI. Smith, Harrisburg; Judge Henry Houck, Pottsville; Judge Braham, New Castle, and Thomas M. Lewis, Plymouth.

Congress-at-Large

Congress-at-large candidates were: Republican—Samuel K. Cunningham, Pittsburgh; Albert C. Tarentum, R. B. Naugle, Lansdale; W. Clyde Harer, Williamsport; Frank P. Truscott, Philadelphia; William T. Troutman, Shamokin; Benjamin Jarrett, Farrell, and Michael Yurkovsky, Bloomsburg.

Democrat—Inez B. Peel, Pittsburgh; Frank A. Coolahan, Mt. Lebanon, and William M. Leader, Philadelphia.

Independents in the list of Democratic candidates for governor included Bowers and Regan, the former a manufacturer from Reading and the latter a Montgomery county attorney. Neither is connected with major factions of the party.

Major Battle

A battle of major proportions loomed between Senator Davis, General Martin and Lancaster County Leader Diehm for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination. Diehm entered the race with support of the new guard insurgent organization.

With the formal announcement of Diehm's candidacy, William H. Harrman, head of the new guard, and leader of the Willie movement in Pennsylvania in 1940 who was the original choice of the insurgents, withdrew from the race.

Harr appointed former State Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown newspaper editor, as his campaign manager and former Congressman William M. Berlin, Greensburg, as secretary, with headquarters in Harrisburg. He plans to open a headquarters in Philadelphia later.

"After trying to promote harmony in the Democratic party, it looks like we will have a three-cornered primary contest," said Harr.

Democratic State Chairman Meredith Myers, speaking as an individual, said he was "absolutely for Harr" but withheld his endorsement of any of the other candidates. A campaign slogan, "Harr and Harmony—We Ain't Mad at Nobody," was adopted.

Berlin pointed out that he had accepted the secretaryship of Harr's campaign committee more than a year ago at the request of Senator Guffey, while Andrews said that a statewide campaign committee would be named in the near future.

YWCA Doing Good Work Around World Today

Women and girls, numbering 1244, have so far attested that membership in the Y. W. C. A. is important to them because the association provides a center of friendship and understanding for all ages and churches and nationalities, not only here in New Castle, but in countries all around the world, even where its public meetings are suppressed by the Nazis. It is important also because it is turning its Christianity into realistic democracy, action for defense workers, for negroes and for other minorities who need the simple facts and understanding which will make them partners in our democracy.

It is important because the Y. W. C. A. is building a world community through the work of a Y. W. C. A. secretary in Geneva, among women and children prisoners and internees in Germany. This Y. W. C. A. secretary is a friendly go-between to get news to their families that they are really being well treated under the international understanding.

The Y. W. C. A. has also started farm classes at the Y. W. C. A. Lorient farm for girls in France who are forced to earn a living on French farms without any knowledge of how to do it.

The World Fellowship reports of the Y. W. C. A. tell of the Chinese industrial cooperatives for making soldiers uniforms and other necessities which the Y. W. C. A. started and continued to train leaders for as the Chinese went back into the interior.

An American Y. W. C. A. general secretary went out two years ago to again help her former friends in China. She is Marian Dudley, and she is now interned with her Chinese associates in Hong Kong.

All around the world the Y. W. C. A. has been working with women and girls for many years, in Buenos Aires for 50 years, in India for 80 years, in Java and all the European countries and now because the Y. W. C. A. is so busy with older workers and soldiers in England, the Y. W. C. A. has had to find recreation and leisure time activities for both boys and girls from 14 to 18 years of age who are working in England's factories. Hundreds of huts have been provided for them in out of the way places and hundreds more are needed. The Y. W. C. A. of the United States, including the New Castle association, has a very responsible part in all this world work.

It is to this kind of practical fellowship that New Castle women and girls are uniting themselves when they join a world association of Y. W. C. A.'s, a center of understanding for all the women and girls who have to give up their sons and brothers and boy friends and carry on courageously.

Mrs. J. W. Valentine, membership chairman, announces that on Wednesday morning at 11:30, after the Y. W. C. A. Lenten Bible class, there will be another report from the 107 Y. W. C. A. membership workers who have done such splendid work in bringing this opportunity of world fellowship to New Castle women and girls.

The land boundary between the United States and Canada is marked by 5,483 monuments and a vista out through the woods in all forest areas.

Victory Eggs Are Laid By Ward Hens

Much Interest Aroused Over Eggs With V-For Victory Markings On Shell

Not only are the people of Mahoningtown minded, but it seems as though even the hens have the same thought. Indications point this way when two eggs were brought to "The News" by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russo, of 11 Montgomery avenue with the "V" plainly inscribed on the egg shell.

The eggs were laid by white hens, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Russo. Little attention was paid when one egg was laid with the "V" for Victory sign, but when the second egg was found, well it just seemed worthwhile to be mentioned.

Harry has been in the service for one year, in April.

Street Light On South First Street

Through the efforts of Seventh ward committeeman, Nick Cangey, who contacted city council, action was taken and a street light was placed on South First street, between Blanchard street and Rabbit way.

Heretofore, no light was received at this point, making it very unsafe for motorists to manipulate their cars around the curve, and also endangering the lives of pedestrians.

The necessity of the light was brought to the attention of the councilmen, and recently the installation of the street light was made.

March 30, 1942

Editor of the New Castle News: What is wrong with our Community? Why can't the citizens of New Castle honor the boys leaving for Service? Why can't we give them a real send off by having the American Legion and High School Bands devote their few minutes in honoring the departing draftees?

It's too sad too heart-breaking as it is now. Throw flowers at them, kisses and smiles, give them hope. Make them feel great and important, for indeed they are.

Don't send them away with tears in their eyes and sobs in their hearts, but play those bands. Make them laugh, give them courage, and ask God to bless them all.

PREDICT PARMELEE Will Resign Post

Nudist Book May Cause Economist To Quit Wallace's Board

BY GRIFFING BANCROFT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Informed congressmen predicted today that Maurice Parmelee, author of a book on nudism, will resign his $5600 a year post as an economist on Vice President Wallace's board of economic warfare.

The prediction came as lines were drawn in the house for another major battle over the committee on un-American activities which dug up Parmelee's nudist book and made it public via a letter to Wallace from Chairman Dies (D) Texas.

Disclosure that the Constitutionally-secure economist had, in 1931, written "Nudism in Modern Life," which advocated that nudity "be practiced wherever feasible, in the home and in the factory," touched off a storm of criticism on the house floor.

While some members rose to charge the 300-page book contained passages and pictures which were "lurid, filthy and obscene," others however, retailed by assailing the committee for having released the letter to the public "without an investigation."

The Dies committee recently was extended for the rest of this year, but its foes planned to attack it through the purse strings by seeking to pare down on its funds.

Rep. Cochran (D) Mo., chairman of the accounts committee which handles money for other congressional committees, said he would have a hearing on the matter in two weeks.

"It doesn't matter how the fact was made public," Rep. Cox (D) Ga., one of those who lead the speech making against the book, declared today. "The people are entitled to know that a man who advocated such a practice is permitted to hold a responsible post. I don't think rubber sentiment will stand it and that he will be forced to resign."

Rep. O'Donoghue (D) Mont., however, charged that "this is no time for stirring up such things." He said that when the Dies committee comes asking for funds he will strive to cut it down.

Possibility Of Sabotage Seen In Easton Blast

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 31.—The possibility that sabotage caused the blast at the Lehigh Portland Cement company plant near Easton which killed 31 men last Thursday was raised today by Rep. Charles McFall of Northampton county.

The Bangor Democratic assemblyman told the Pennsylvania house of representatives, in a prepared speech, that "many" powder men were of the opinion that caps were deliberately placed in the boxes of dynamite and timed to go off.

The purpose may have been to blow up a plant at Kenville, N. J., said McFall, and the plan miscarried.

"This accident has all the earmarks of being caused by some force not known or controlled by the experts sent out by the Hercules Powder company," said McFall, "for no explosives are kept on the grounds and all blasts are directed and supervised by the experts sent out by these respective companies that supply the explosives."

Three experts were sent out by the Hercules Powder company to direct the job of exploding 20 tons of dynamite, said McFall. "It does not seem possible," he said, "all three of these men (who met death in the blast) would make or allow to be made the one fatal mistake that could have caused this terrible accident."

"There is no proof of sabotage," continued McFall, "because all evidence is destroyed together with all knowledge that may have been the direct cause for all the men taking part are dead, but all the powder men are skeptical, many say caps were placed in the boxes somehow—timed to go off—perhaps to blow up the plant at Kenville, N. J., and it just happened the boxes came out with the shipment to the Lehigh Portland Cement company."

Athletics Are Hard Hit By War, Lose Nine Star Players

Connie Mack Had Great Team Lined Up Before Sneak Attack At Pearl Harbor

Benny McCoy, Dick Siebert, And Sam Chapman Are Key Men Lost

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Special Correspondent
ANAHEIM, Cal., March 31.—It's all over but the shouting now. Connie Mack, at 79, might have beaten the calendar, might have reached the goal of his heart's desire, another pennant for his Philadelphia Athletics, might, anyhow have struggled out of the cellar as a fitting valedictory to his tremendous career in baseball. Yes, old Connie, gallant soul, might once have done any of these things, but not now. He can't lick a war.

Worse than that, the war can and will lick him. It has already taken nine of his players, probably will take more. But that hardly matters at this point. Once you're down to nothing, you can't have less.

Three Key Men
Three of the army draftees were key men—Sam Chapman who hit 323 in the outfield last year, drove in 105 runs and hit 25 out of the park for home runs; Benny McCoy, who began definitely to come on at second base and Dick Siebert, one of the top first basemen of baseball with his 341 average.

McCoy, of course, also represented the loss of $65,000 which Connie had tied up in his purchase. But, for once, money means less to old Connie than the problem of what he's going to stuff his uniforms with when he tries to open the season.

Some of the gaping holes in the first line may be plugged, either adequately or otherwise, with a few miscellaneous infielders still around the camp. Al Brancato is back as the regular shortstop and Connie shows one of his rare moments of enthusiasm in speaking of Don Richardson, a third baseman.

Sunder On Way Out
He says the young man is as good right now as Stan Hack was last year, which would indicate that third baseman Pete Suder is soon to be detached from his wages. Lou Blair, picked up from the Yankee chain at Newark, is being helpful in spite of a knee injury. Al Rubeling, extra infielder, is back again, although, that doesn't solve anything. Anyhow, in Al's case, it never has.

"Crash" Davis also is back again, this time to make a genuine attempt to become a first baseman. He can't miss by much, with the camp practically devoid of first basemen. That's the infield, and the only thing worse is the pitching.

Hurling Just Fair
Bill Beckman, Herman Besse, Les McCrabb and Phil Marchildon "rank" the best of the staff, without any particular credit to themselves. The fact is that old Connie hasn't had pitching since last he won a pennant back in 1931, and at least he's being consistent now.

Jack Hallett, taken in trade from the White Sox, might be a pleasant surprise. So might Russ Christopher, a big right hander who won 16 and lost 7 for Newark. Mr. Mack really thinks he's got something with this young man.

But of course, whatever it is, it won't be enough to make up for the rest.
Hayes Will Catch
Frank Hayes will provide competent catching, as soon as he recovers from a knee injury. Bob Johnson will provide the outfield punch, as soon as he's able to get in shape. All told, the whole thing looks like a conspiracy to keep old Connie anchored in last place.

The rest of his outfield is Mike Kreevich from the White Sox; Dee Miles, 1941 regular, a guy named Valo, from Wilmington, Del., and Eddie Collins, Jr. Kreevich had his second bad year in a row at Chicago, but still was taken in trade for Wally Moses, who'd hit just above 300. Miles also was well over 300 for 80 games, so there's still some thump around with this outfit, provided there's anything else to go with it.

There isn't. In fact, there isn't even much luck, considering the departures, the injuries, the hold-outs and other haphazard complications too numerous to mention.

New Castle Rifle Club Wins Match

The New Castle Rifle club won an Interstate rifle match last night by defeating New Brighton at the New Brighton range 1434 to 1359. High string for the match was shot by two men, Jesse Moore of the New Castle club and Shamor of the losing team a 292 count.

Church Golfers Planning Banquet

Will Probably Open League On Thursday Night, May 14

The New Castle church golfing league held its first session of the 1942 season at the First Presbyterian church last night and made tentative plans to open the season on Thursday night May 14 at Castle Hills. Jimmy Elder, president of the league, had charge of the meeting.

Seven churches had captains at the meeting as follows: First Presbyterians, First U. P., Highland Trinity, Methodists, First Christian and Madonna, the latter a new team that is seeking for a franchise. There is a possibility that only eight churches will enter teams this season, due to conditions. The next meeting date will be Monday night April 13.

The league is making plans for the annual spring banquet and the following committee has been named to work out the details. Fred Schepple, Dave Aston, and Eddie Long. The date of the banquet will be May 4th at a local church.

High Athletes Enjoy Vacation

Easter Vacation Curtails Sports Activities In High School This Week

Athletic activities are at a standstill at New Castle High this week due to the annual Easter vacation. Track, the big item on the sports bill now, will swing into full operation next Monday afternoon. William "Bill" Klee, major domo, announced today.

Barring inclement weather, the cinder grinders will stage their first workout of the campaign at Taggart stadium next Monday afternoon.

Some 20 or 25 boys who jumped the gun by training around the school building, are staging private sessions this week, Klee announced. The opening track event is the perennial inter-class meet booked for Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17.

Presbyterians Take First Series Game

The First Presbyterian basketball team won the first game of the junior church league championship series at the "Y" last night in the Baptist team 32 to 13. The second game of the three-game series will be played tonight at the "Y" at 7 o'clock.

Starting in the game last night were Billy Andrews of the Presbyterian team with 14 of the points and Wilson with eight of the points for the winning team. Best in the losing lineup was Bob Ziegler with four of the Baptist points.

Harry Bobo Ices Franklin In First

Quick Kayo Lifts Pittsburgher To Fistic Fame; Oblivion For Cleveland

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH, March 31.—If there is anyone in the house who doubts big Harry Bobo's right to shout and holler for a title fight with Pvt. Joe Franklin, let him seek out one Lem Franklin, heretofore known as Lammin Lem, and ask him a few trade secrets, especially about how hard the Pittsburgh negro can hit.

In thirty-seconds last night, before a capacity house gone mad with excitement and tension, the giant Pittsburgh paralyzer—he stands six feet four inches in his stocking feet—literally pulverized Cleveland's pride and joy and left him hanging limply over the ropes in his own corner, while his manager and trainers stared in bug-eyed disbelief.

Franklin, highly-touted as a right handed dynamiter but on the short end of the eight to five odds because of his recent loss to bicycle Bob Pastor, lasted only two minutes and forty seconds with the powerful Bobo. And all the fighting that Bobo did went on in the thirty seconds that preceded his first round knock-out.

Thrown on the defensive at the opening bell by Franklin's sudden rush and flickering of that dangerous right of his, Bobo scotched backward for almost two minutes. About mid-way, he half-slipped and half-fell to the canvas for a three-count. Then, with his left jabbing and setting up Franklin, he bided his time for an opening.

It came with thunderous speed and down went the Clevelander for a seven-count. He staggered to his feet and another barrage sent him flat on his back again. At the count of eight, he managed to climb up and rolled against the ropes in his own corner.

The End Comes
There Bob rushed in with a crushing right and virtually blasted him halfway through the ropes where he sprawled awkwardly on the bottom strand, half in and half out of the ring while the referee tolled his count over the roar of the crowd. But Franklin didn't hear that nor anything else for close to five minutes.

Bobo's next opponent will probably be Pastor, of hit and run fame. James J. Johnson, Pastor's manager, watched the fight last night and has already been guaranteed $20,000 for a Pittsburgh show. It's fairly certain that it'll come off, and if Bobo can do to Pastor what he did to Franklin, he'll move up beside another Pittsburgher, Billy Conn by name, as the outstanding heavyweight contender.

Bobo weighed in at 209-1-4, while Franklin tipped the scales at 196-1-2. The house, with a capacity crowd of 7,000, grossed $23,436.50, and netted $20,526—an all-time high for indoor shows in this city of steel and champions.

PILNEY TO COACH
Andy Pilney, former Notre Dame halfback, will coach the Washington backfield, and Bud Kery, Bobo's unanimous choice for All-America, will direct the line next season.

SMITH DELARDING
Eddie Smith, White Sox southpaw, has his weight down below 200 pounds this year. He hopes to pitch at about 185, but has considerable reducing to do.

Tommy Bell Beats Baxter

Substitutes For Genaro When Latter Appears With Injured Hand

SERVICE MATCHES
PLEASE BIG CROWD

Frankie Genaro of Youngstown appeared in The Arena last night with a badly injured hand and when the Jefferson A. C. physician refused to permit him to box, another Ohioan, Tommy Bell, took his place. Not only did Tommy surprise fans but also Russell Baxter. He knocked Baxter down in the first round and at the end of the three-round fight was given the unanimous decision. The Arena was crowded.

Genaro slightly injured his hand Friday night in Ellwood City but added injury when he walloped a big bag Sunday in training, hence when he appeared last night his mauler was swollen and in no condition to belay anyone so the Jefferson A. C. officials called upon Tommy Bell, a brother of the w. k. Shelton.

And in calling upon Tommy they not only staged a surprise party for fans but also for Baxter, and what a surprise. Baxter started off well, stabbing his left to the face, but the round had not gone far until Bell put a stiff right to the head then crossed with a right to the jaw.

The county middleweight champion went down hard but did not re-pose on the floor for the usual count. He got up just before the bell sounded. In the second round they did a lot of punching. However, none of the blows landed on a vulnerable spot.

In the third Baxter made a valiant effort to recover lost ground. However, he found an opponent equally as clever and equally as hard a hitter and the round was a tit-for-tat. The judges handed the Ohio middleweight the decision.

Like wine, Billy Reale improves with age and in his second fight as a heavyweight won a split decision over Joe Biro of Youngstown. It was a good fight, in fact, a decidedly fast fight for amateur "heavies" and there was little to choose between the slugers at the end of the third round.

The classic fight of the Evening's Even was the bantam-weight clash between Tony Genaro and Bob Timpkin, colored, both of Youngstown. They stepped fast, hit often and gave the fans a fine demonstration as to what constitutes amateur boxing. Genaro won the decision.

Seaman Eddie Spigler of Uncle Sam's navy took on the more experienced Bill Bradley of this city. What he lacked in experience he made up for in willingness and while Bradley was given the decision Eddie gave him a good fight at 160.

Sergeant Jim Final, U. S. M. C., with the best physique seen here in some time, upset the flistic dope by pounding out a three-round decision over Jimmy Davidson of Youngstown at 175. It was a good fight. Final has the "makings" of a good fighter.

Seamen William Carlin and William Horcher, two more navy boys, clashed at 130 in another three-round bout. It was fast and both the little fellows pleased the huge audience. The referee called the bout a draw.

Pete Carey Loses
Pete Carey, a local junior light-weight, clashed with Tony Scilliano of Youngstown. The decision was given against him. Johnny Gardner and Bob Timpkin, colored, both of Youngstown, they stepped fast, hit often and gave the fans a fine demonstration as to what constitutes amateur boxing. Genaro won the decision.

Seaman Johnny Dean refereed four fights and Sam Levshock arbitrated the other four bouts. Several merchants presented gifts to each of the service men. J. F. Perelman presented an additional gift to the service man staying the best fight according to fans.

Nielsen, the jeweler, presented an electric clock to Seaman Spigler. Haney Bros. presented a portable radio to Sergeant Final. Jack Gerson presented a pen and pencil set to Seaman Horcher. J. F. Perelman presented $5 defense stamps to Seaman Carlin.

Sergeant Final was selected by fans as having staged the best showing of the service men and won the Gerson silver trophy.

Last night's fights were good and the substitution of Tommy Bell did not detract from the show. Instead it proved a surprise as Tommy is rated as good as Genaro and three weeks ago decided Baxter in Farrell. When the Jefferson A. C. called upon him for a substitute, they picked a good boy.

The judges were Tommy Jones and Phil Greer and the timers, William Pazzone and Peter Capitola. Charles Walther was the announcer. Norman Ross, who served as a sailor on the U. S. Pennsylvania (he was in those days the lightweight wrestling champion of the navy, when Johnny Dean served his first hitch in the marines) represented the State Athletic commission and Ed Fritz of The News represented the A. A. U.

It was reported that Genaro would be in condition to fight Baxter or any other middleweight here April 17.

NEW YORK, March 31.—There are grounds for the belief that Joe Louis will box Bob Pastor next summer before he encounters Billy Conn; that the New York boxing commission will throw Jimmy Johnston out of the office tomorrow if he shows up with his beef against the refereeing in the Louis-Abe Simon bout, and that if Louis fights for a service fund again they will arrange so that he can train properly.

Along Jacobs Beach the word is out that Pastor has the inside track because they want to get him while he is still in hot-before somebody cools him off, as somebody must sooner or later. This one, too, like Louis' heavyweight defenses against Buddy Baer and Abe Simon may be for a service fund, with Conn saved for a later date and for a Louis payday, which certainly nobody will begrudge him.

While the champion is knocking out his $21 a month as a private his taxes on real estate outside Detroit and Chicago go right on, and it seems likely that he will be given a chance to fight for himself at least once this year.

Will Look Silly
As for Johnston's expected appearance before the boxing commission, all that need to be said about that is that he goes through with it, is that he will only be making himself look sillier than he did around the ringside Friday night when he began to believe that they gave his fighter, Simon, a fast count.

Johnston and Simon both are extremely lucky in the first place to get that match and the money involved. In the second place, it's about time Johnston quit hollering. Furthermore, with Pastor another of his fighters about to get a third crack at Louis, he seems to be doing all right in his pursuit of pay-days for himself and his fighters. Simon actually didn't deserve another chance at Louis any more than Pastor does now.

As for that alleged fast count, it seemed apparent that Simon was well on his way up at 10 with his hands off the floor and with his huge torso more erect than reclining, but nobody in his right mind could conceive of Simon making any kind of a fight from that point on. He was a little bloody, very groggy and thoroughly inept as usual and virtually helpless.

Saved Punishment
He had shown nothing up to then to recommend him for the rest of the fight, and he undoubtedly was saved from a jolting, possibly injurious, clean knockout.

One thing the fight seems to have brought out is a slight lack of sharpness on the part of Louis, and that was the necessity of a fighter going into a training camp to get himself ready for a fight. Louis trained under intolerable conditions.

States Can Enact Legislation On Mass Picketing

Supreme Court Hands Down Decision—Other Labor Decisions Given

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—The supreme court on Monday unanimously ruled that states can enact legislation regulating conduct of employees and unions as to mass picketing, threats and violence without conflicting with the national labor relations act.

The decision was handed down on an appeal of the Allen Bradley Local, United Electrical Workers, a C. I. O. union, assailing the Wisconsin "peace law" as unconstitutional.

The high court issued important labor decisions involving state laws in two other cases. They were:

1. By a 6 to 3 decision the court upheld action of Texas courts in enjoining Carpenters and Joiners Local No. 212, Houston, Tex., from peaceful picketing of Ritter's cafe, in an effort to compel Ritter to employ only union labor in a small building at his home.

2. Court set aside a decision of New York State courts which enjoined members of the Bakery and Pastry Drivers Local No. 802, New York City, from picketing Hyman Wool and Sons, Plattsburgh, independent bakery peddlers, and stores selling their product or manufacturers from whom they bought.

Women Have More Fears Than Men

Mice, Rats, Worms, Lizards Still Hold Fear For Women, Tests Reveal

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, March 31.—If women are to be used in an auxiliary army corps, as proposed in a recent act of Congress, their quarters had better be cleared of mice, rats, worms, and lizards, for women still fear these animals, according to a study just completed by Dr. Clifford R. Adams, assistant professor of psychology at the Pennsylvania State College.

Using the personal audit, a personality test devised by him and Dr. W. M. Lipey, Dr. Adams found that women still have many more fears than men, despite years of claiming equal opportunities and invading traditionally masculine jobs.

Among the 520 students from five universities whom he queried, the coeds also feared burglars and prowlers, heavy thunder and lightning, walking alone at night, looking at a dead person, being lost in a strange place, making a parachute jump, entering a deserted building, taking a cruise in a submarine, traveling by airplane during a snowstorm, driving at 80 miles per hour, and riding on a ferris wheel.

Of 50 fears listed, only one was dreaded more by men than by women—students, and that was the possibility of becoming blind.

"Probably an economic factor is involved in the men's attitude," Dr. Adams pointed out.

The girls were also more superstitious, expressing fear of having a black cat cross their path, dislike of walking past graveyards at night, and interest in having their fortunes told.

Both men and women students, however, were equally afraid of dying young, losing their sweethearts to another person, having their friends learn about their worst faults.

Stenographers Are Needed For War Work

According to Miss Garnet Rhodes, local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners, with offices in the Post Office, Washington, D. C., advises that there is a great shortage of stenographers at the nation's capital. New Castle is expected to contribute her share of these workers.

Anyone willing to work in Washington for $1440 per year, and who can take dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute or better, is asked to contact Miss Rhodes. Immediate examinations will be given. Rooms with board may be had in Washington for from $45 to $55 per month, she is informed.

GUARDS CAUGHT NAPPING
(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Tom Southwick, 14, of Stockton has found a weakness in the defense program.

Having a yen for fishing, Tom entered the heavily guarded Port of Stockton, ambled on pier 3, tossed his line into the river and fished.

But the fish failed to bite, so the lad wheeled his bicycle toward the guarded gate... from the inside.

"How did you get in here?" demanded the startled guard.

"I just walked in near pier 3 and went fishing," Southwick replied.

There were 165 guards on duty.

All people in this community... all people in any community who consider themselves Christians should be interested in this coming Friday... This coming Friday will be the 3rd of April... GOOD FRIDAY... It would be very fine if we all could set aside one portion of the day for meditation... it need not be long. If the merchants and the customers could get together on a time... a time when all could pause and give silent prayer to the Master of The World. Today and the days that will follow are important to us people... So friends let's stop and think about the Cross... Let's stop and re-read the story of Christ and how he entered into the city... Let's give this Good Friday some serious thought.

Any comments on how the city as a whole could observe a time of meditation would be greatly appreciated by your correspondent. All peoples, all faiths should unite at this time... we are all living in the same boat, meaning we are all Christians and observing the same laws that were handed down to Moses and upon these laws we have our Common Laws of today based.

This summer it will be very important that all those people who love dogs and who have same for pets keep them under control. Hundreds of people throughout the county will be making garden to comply with the Nation Theme of Victory Above All Else... Dogs like to play in nicely kept gardens... the earth is just right for digging and tomato vines seem to have some power to make a dog attract them. So how about it dog lovers... keep your dog under control at all times... your reward will come when your neighbor gives you a jar of pickled beets or a quart of tomato juice next fall.

From now on the pants that you buy men will have no cuffs... Well, it won't be difficult to tell when a man is wearing a last year's suit... but that is one point that man differs from the female part of the community. But what good were cuffs anyhow... they were always getting filled with dirt... especially when you worked in a flower mill or some such place. We are Americans and we will adjust ourselves to such things without much fuss... we are going to win this war, then we can put cuffs on our pants that reach up to our knees, if we want to.

Stock Market Is Shade Lower

Trading Is Listless In New York Market During Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 31.—The stock market drifted a shade lower in continued listless trading today. Individual declines were extremely small for the most part, and several leading issues held above last night's closing prices.

A few stocks gave up a point or more, including Du Pont and American Airlines. Allied Chemical, meanwhile, ran up a point to 123 on two sales.

Fractional declines were incurred by Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, American Smelting, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio and Consolidated Edison.

Stocks to buck the trend for net gains included Boeing, Western Union, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of N. J., American Car & Foundry, U. S. Rubber and Continental Can. Commodities were erratic. Cotton jumped 50 cents a bale at the start to new 13-year peaks, with March crossing the 20-cent level. Gains later were erased.

Bo-Bo Newsom Traded To Nats

Eccentric Tiger Hurler Goes Back To Team He Played With Previously

(International News Service)

ORLANDO, Fla., March 31.—After holding out on the Detroit Tigers for the past two months, Big Buck Newsom today was back in uniform with that of a Washington Senator.

The unpredictable pitcher and Washington President Clark Griffith came to terms shortly before midnight. While neither would disclose the amount of Bobo's 1942 salary with the Nats, Newsom said:

"I didn't budge from what I had been asking the Tigers to pay me. I got what I wanted from Mr. Griffith. I can't say how much, because I don't want to make anybody jealous."

Newsom, who was paid $32,000 by the Tigers last year, had rejected the Detroit club's final offer of $13,000 earlier in the day. His last offer to the Tigers was to sign for $20,000. Price of the pitcher, who played with the Nats from 1935 to 1937, was not discussed but Detroit Manager Jack Zeller had said he would sell Newsom for not much more than the waiver price of $7,500.

The Senators, who were beat 8-5 by the Tigers yesterday, today meet the Cincinnati Reds.

Factors Lose At Cleveland

The Factor Variety girls basketball team of this city journeyed to Cleveland, O., last Sunday and lost a tough 34 to 32 battle to the Stella Walsh girls team at the St. Stanislaw floor.

The game was one of the best of the season on the Cleveland court, and after the game Stella Walsh, national olympic champion, congratulated the Factor girls on their splendid performance. It was on the foul line that the Factors lost the game, and also the fact that several times they threw the ball wild in vital moments.

Playing the best game for the Factors were Jerry Gail and Ann Hordig in the scoring department, and Marie Wheaton in the defensive department, the latter being a real standout in the battle. For the Walsh girls Stella and Miss Ormsby were the best.

The Factors will next play the Volma girls of Warren, O., at the Wampum high gym in a benefit game, and will also enter the girls national tournament at East Liverpool, O., in the next week or so.

Woman Convicted In Flogging Of School Teacher

Husband Also Found Guilty In Lafayette, Ind., Teacher
Attack Case

(International News Service)

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 31.—Found guilty in the flogging of Miss Constance Davis, pretty school-mistress, because she "humiliated" their son, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leslie today awaited sentencing by the Tipton circuit court.

Mrs. Leslie, 45, was found guilty of assault and battery, and Leslie, 41, a railroad employee, was convicted as an accessory.

A jury found the Leslies guilty after deliberating three hours last night, and recommended that each be fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in prison. Judge W. Lynn Parkinson announced he would pass sentence Saturday morning.

Witnesses testified during the trial that Mrs. Leslie entered the classroom of her son, Danny, 11, and in view of the pupils whipped Miss Davis, 33, with a Boy Scout belt. The mother charged the teacher humiliated Danny while the instructor maintained in her own defense that she tapped Danny on the head with a book to attract his attention to work.

Mrs. Leslie too the verdict calmly, but expressed concern for her husband's health, declaring:

"If they put him in jail it means his death. He is constantly under the doctor's care, and I'm the only one who knows how to administer his medicine."

The youthful county prosecutor, Charles B. Kemmer, was trying his first jury case when in closing arguments he demanded a penalty "commensurate with the seriousness of the offense."
